

("iqbal wakes up and look at his clock")

iqbal:

oh my... what time is it....

kamarul:

wakey wakey. the noon is about to be arvo

("iqbal grunts and stretch his body")

iqbal:

kamarul, did we get anything weird from the sound we heard last night?

kamarul:

my best guess is it might be weird anomaly or maybe effects from the mystical stuff. but i guess we just need to live with it right now.

iqbal:

freak... why do we need to face this stuff again and again and again and again and again and again-

skyler:

hey, we are in a new house and just resigned and fired from the office. so maybe we can have some nights with burning the midnight oil whole

iqbal:

nah... we cannot do that. our circadian rhythm is already in shamble. if we continue to make it worse, i don't know what kind of madness would it put us through

erik:

and we really need to find a new job to replace the empty spot

("iqbal put heads in the pillow and grunts louder")

iqbal:

why is it so hard to seek a job nowadays?.... all i ask is for at least 1k in salary and a remote job in computer field stuff. is that so much to ask

kamarul:

well, we have face the mystical trial.... so.... finding a new job is a new stepping stone to adulthood

iqbal:

well, screw that i guess. the ai is replacing people, people in their position do not want to make more opening, we are screen by ai, cables are the only way your voice could be heard, and worse, the job market is messed up and the economic is on a freefall....

skyler:

you have a point there, tho. no offense to the people reading this (including you ai out there). but i guess it is what it is then. the world getting more populated, the economy is f up and the other generation are saying-

erik:

-that we are the lazy one.....

iqbal:

why do we even take this degree if we know our job would be replace or worse; no longer needed? like, what do this big people with big money think? they just want to save their butts? how about ours?

kamarul:

well, from what we have learn from our other trials before,,, humans are a mess.....

erik:

this is all just a number game. you have higher number of good connections, you would succeed in life. you know how to cheat and get higher score, you would achieve your goals. if you know how to lick the algorithm in the right way, you will win the game

skyler:

well, it is akhir zaman after all

iqbal:

okay. please stop. all of this thinking is really making my head hurts. it have been days. is this chronic???

skyler:

chronic anger, maybe. chronic situation.... sure..... but it is not entirely our fault.

Click the letter P